ANIMALS THAT COUNT.

Instances That Prove Their Possession of the Computing Faculty.

Several years ago there lived in Cincinnati a mule which was employed by a street railway company in hauling cars up a steep incline. This animal was hitched in front of the regular team and unhitched as soon as the car arrived at the top of the hill. It made a certain number of trips in the forenoon (I have forgotten the number, but will say 50 for the sake of convenience) and a like number in the afternoon, resting for an hour at noon. As soon as the mule completed its fiftieth trip it marched away to its stable without orders from its driver.

To show that it was not influenced by the sound of the factory whistles and bells the following remarkable action on the part of this animal is vouches for by the superintendent of the line, who gave me these data: On a certain occasion, during a musical festival, this mule was transferred to the night shift, and the very instant it completed its fiftieth trip it started for the stables. It took the combined efforts of several men to make it return to its duty. At night there were no bells or whistles to inform the creature that "quitting time" had come. It had counted the trips, and having finished its full quota of 50 it thought that the time for rest and food had arrived.

Some monkeys give unmistakable evidences of the possession by them of the computing faculty. In 1889 I made the acquaintance of a very intelligent chimpanzee which could count as high as three. That this was not a trick suggested by sensual impulses I had ample opportunity of satisfying myself. The owner of the animal would leave the room, no one being present but myself, and when I would call for two marbles or one marble or three marbles, as the case might be, the monkey would gravely hand over the required number.

Romanes mentions an ape which could count three, the material used in his experiment being straws from the animal's cage. Wolff, Darwin, Forbes and Hartman also give instances of the computing faculty in apes and monkeys.—James Weir in Lippincott's Magazine.

Difficult to Indict Pain.

The doctor smoked slowly on his cigar. It was plain that he had something to say.

"I was thinking of my early college days," he said, "and of a peculiar incident that happened very soon after I began my studies. The professor was instructing the class one day on the corpuscles of the blood. In order to get some fresh blood for microscopic examination each student was ordered to tie a ring around his forefinger and strike the top of the finger suddenly with a needle with sufficient force to draw blood. Seems easy, doesn't it? Do you know there wasn't a man in the class that did it at the first attempt. It was funny to watch some of those embryo surgeons poised the needle with a determined air and launch it to within a hair space of the flesh and there stop dead. Others tried to force the needle in slowly, but paused very shortly, with an expression of pain commensurate to that of an amputation. I myself gave it up as a bad job, and hacked a cavity in my thumb with a penknife, and found it easier."

"The fact that we were very young and inexperienced is no explanation for this peculiarity, as I have since found by personal test. Almost everybody exhibited the same repugnance to inflicting pain in that manner. Try it yourself."

The other man tried and succeeded on the fourth trial.—New York Sun.

Art of Making a Mustard Plaster.

To put on a mustard plaster is not at all difficult, but to do it in the best way requires some care and skill. In the first place, remember never to give a cold mustard plaster to a patient. To a weak or sensitive person the shock is often great. Either mix with very hot water, or, better still, have a plate put where it can get warm while you are mixing. Having everything ready at hand, mustard, flour and a spoonful of molasses, with a bit of old muslin or linen—an old handkerchief is the best thing for the purpose. Stir the mustard and flour together first, making the plaster stronger or weaker with mustard as you have been directed. Add the molasses and then the water until the smooth mass is about as thick as porridge or polenta. Spread your cloth on the warm plate, using the middle portion of the linen and leaving a margin on all sides, which is to be folded back at the edges. Put a second cloth over the whole, so that the mustard is entirely hid between the two cloths and keep on the plate until it is necessary to apply the plaster.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Value of Toes in Walking.

The idea that the lesser toes are necessary in walking is generally entertained, and it has been a surprise to European physicians to learn that amputation of all the lesser toes of both feet has been followed by complete recovery and the restoration to usefulness of both the feet operated upon. The heel healed slowly after the operation, but very steadily and without unpleasant complications. The operation was performed, and in a little more than a year and a half the patient danced all night and experienced no inconvenience whatever on account of having only one toe on each foot. She rides a wheel, plays tennis and enjoys every sport that girls of her age are fond of. The cause of the trouble was originally chilblains, which was neglected until it produced contraction of the muscles with the most intense pain, which was at times so severe that she could not enjoy the necessary amount of sleep. Surgeons are of the opinion that a great deal of needless suffering is endured which might be relieved by extremely simple operations on the feet.—New York Ledger.

KLONDIKE GOLD OUTPUT.

The returns from the Klondike gold mines are disappointing. A year ago the agents of the Klondike industrially circulated the report that experts had examined the gold fields near Dawson, pronounced them the richest that had ever been discovered and estimated the product for the winter of 1897-8 at over $50,000,000. This was done for the purpose of silencing the demand for the remonetization of silver by creating the impression that the gold product of Alaska would be sufficient in few years to keep the mint running steadily, and furnish enough gold coin for all business purposes.

Now the returns are in from last winter's work and they show that the Canadian authorities, who are very vigilant, collected royalties on only $4,000,000 of gold, though they expect to collect on $8,000,000 more when all the gravel extracted is washed. The Mining Journal, which endeavors to get an accurate account of all the gold brought from the Klondike country, estimates this year's product of the mines at less than $3,000,000. The average earning per man, during the last year did not exceed $150, which is less, considering the high price of provisions and the time expended in going to the mines, than is paid volunteers in war times.

It is probable that the gold product of Alaska will average five or six millions a year, but that will not materially increase the world's stock of gold coin, as a large percentage of all the gold produced is used in the art.

The California gold output in the early fifties increased the price of real estate and of commodities, because it added materially to the volume of money, as did the gold and silver product of Nevada mines ten years later, but the few millions a year from the Alaska mines will not counteract the effect of silver demonetization on property values. We must restore silver to restore prices. That must be evident to the mind of the most obtuse goldbug in Nevada.

DEPRECIATION IN VALUE.

The value of the personal property in Cook county, Illinois, in which the city of Chicago is situated, is 20 per cent less than it was last year, according to the returns of the assessor. This is what our Republican friends term prosperity. They are constantly prating about the waves of prosperity which are sweeping over the country east and west, north and south, and yet the sworn returns of the assessors show a falling-off of 20 per cent, as compared with 1897, in the value of property in Chicago, which is one of the most progressive cities not only in the United States but in the world.

How long will the people permit themselves to be duped by the gold syndicate and other combinations, which are fattening at their expense? The property of the masses, real estate and personal, is steadily depreciating in value except in rare instances, which are due to special causes, because the country is kept on a gold basis, when there is not enough gold coin in the world to pay the interest on, much less the principal of, what nations, cities and individuals owe.

No nation ever suffered from having too much gold and silver money. If all the silver in the Treasury was coined, it would not average $1.25 for every inhabitant in the United States, but if our mints were opened to the coining of silver and gold, our deserted mining towns would be repopulated and Nevada would give employment to the hundred thousand men the Government proposes to muster out of the army.

Political economists agree in the conclusion that there can be no permanent prosperity until the volume of money is increased and that can be done by restoring silver, a metal of which we produce more than any other nation.

A COMPLIMENT TO SENATOR STEWART.

According to the Carson News Honest John Sherman reads the JOURNAL and does not like Senator Stewart. This indicates that Honest John does read truthful statements of the effect of the single gold standard on the commercial and industrial interests of the country and that the old gentleman is still smarting from the legislation administered to him by Senator Stewart on the floor of the Senate, and has not forgotten the indisputable evidence produced by Senator Stewart that the clause demonetizing silver was surreptitiously incorporated in the Act of 1873 relating to the mints at the instance of John Sherman and his co-conspirators.

No greater compliment could be paid Senator Stewart than the simple statement that he has incurred the enmity of ex-Senator Sherman by exposing the baseness of the gold trust and by his able and persistent efforts to relieve the country from its galling yoke. A word of commendation from Mr. Sherman should cause every honest man in Nevada to look with suspicion on Senator Stewart, while the condemnation of his course by Mr. Sherman will cause every intelligent person in the State to believe that he is right.

To Detect Adulterated Coffee.
An expert tester gives the following directions for detecting adulterated coffee: Rub a handfull of coffee between the fingers. If it hardness or cakes it is adulterated, probably with chicory. Another test is to place a sample of the coffee on the top of a glassful of water. If part of it floats and part sinks it is undoubtedly adulterated. Pure coffee contains an oily enveloped substance that keeps out the water, or, at least, does not quickly absorb it.

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children when teething. It disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth and at once got a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it mothers there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhea regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the gums, reduces Inflammation and gives Tone and Energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price 25 cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup."

The Eureka Consolidated Mining Company has called upon its stockholders to pay an assessment of twenty cents per share. The Eureka consolidated has paid $5,112,500 in dividends and the Elko Argonaut remarks that one of the strongest evidences of Republican prosperity we have is the loyally of assessments by everybody.

The Chicago News says: Secretary John Sherman of Ohio "resigned" and was succeeded by Judge Day of Ohio. Judge Day was succeeded by John Hay of Ohio. If the millennium holds off long enough every man, woman and child in Ohio may yet be Secretary of State.

SECRETARY ALGER is the only issue of the war that is now discussed and the opinion is almost unanimous that for incompetence and imbecility he has never been equalled by the head of any department.

POPULISTS NOT GOLD BUGS.

They are for Home Rule and have no business with Machine Politicians who desire to use them to secure office.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—I find the following in last evening's Virginia Report: "It is more than hinted that the Populists and Republicans will fuse at the coming election. What a union that will be! The wedding of the Chinese and the Coon will fade into insignificance at the sight of a Pop. Rep. marriage. We would, however, remind our Populist friends of the fate of the lady who lived by the Niger, detailed as follows:

"A lady, who lived by the Niger, Went out for a ride on a tiger. They returned from the ride,

With the lady inside, And a smile on the face of the tiger."

The above is a sample of what members of the Populist party are being treated to these days through the press of the State. I can state emphatically that there will be no fusion of Hanna's party and the party that stands on a sound platform of solid principles. The only fusion the Populist party of Nevada will make will be done on the 10th day of September at its State Convention in Reno. On that day a strong sensible platform will be adopted and a strong nonpartisan ticket composed of honest men, not controlled by ring or clique, presented to the people for their suffrages. This is the kind of fusion in the interest of good government that should be made—a fusion with the citizens of the State not with other political organizations.

POPULIST COMMITTEEMAN.

Reno, August 24, 1898.

The Reno Branch of G. O. P. Hold a Meeting, Kiss and Make Up.

A goodly number of Republicans gathered at Judge Linn's Court-room last evening in pursuance of a call for the purpose of arranging for a list of names to be voted for as delegates to the State and County Conventions.

All factional differences were, for the time being, smoothed and a real old fashioned love feast was held.

General Turrill was there and as Chairman of the County Central Committee he called the meeting to order.

Dr. Thomas was then nominated and elected Chairman of the meeting and Roy Rease, Secretary.

After some discussion as to the method of naming the ticket to be voted at the primaries, eight names were chosen for delegates to the State Convention and sixty for delegates to the County Convention. There was some effort at oratory and a general exchange of ideas and mysterious winks and the meeting adjourned.

Overtures for Fusion.

It is reported that the Republican leaders here are making all sorts of overtures for fusion with the Populists. They are willing to concede most anything to the Populists provided the concessions come the Republican way. In fact they have suddenly discovered that the Populists polled a large vote at the last election and their assistance would now be valuable. They do not hesitate to suggest and advise and show exactly how the thing can be done. The Populists listen to their little tale of woe very patiently, but are conservative and quite independent, for they know their strength and realize they are in position to be courted rather than dictated to. The Republicans are determined, however, to fuse with something though the heavens fall and it would not be surprising to hear that they had decided to endorse the Omaha platform.

Beatrice Priest Coming to Reno.

The front page of the San Francisco Town Talk in its last issue has a fine likeness of Beatrice Priest Fine, California's best soprano, who is soon to leave for New York. Her friends here have induced her to stop over in this city on her way east, and give a recital, and she has consented to do so. She will bring with her from San Francisco Arthur Meiss, the famous cellist from Buda Pesth, now in the city, and Robert Clarence Newell, one of California's best pianists. Her date has not been definitely set but will be in the last week of September.

Please explain.

The words "free coinage" seem to have the same effect on the Gazette gang that a red rag does on a Spanish bull, yet no longer ago than the last campaign the same gang declared in a platform of their own framing for free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1 and asserted that we could not have prosperity without it. Will Messrs. Bragg and Thomas please explain why their platform of two years ago is so objectionable to them now?

Emeralda Delegates.

The Bulletin says Henry Hill and B. Rosenthal were elected delegates at Hawthorne, where 78 votes were polled.

In Soda it was a tie between Brooker and McIntyre. At Silver Star, Pine Grove and Silver Peak J. D. Lothrop, J. W. Wilson and S. R. Wasson were elected. At Aurora and Sweetwater Fred Pfister was chosen.

Methodist Mission Conference.

The opening services of the Nevada Methodist Mission Conference were held at the M. E. Church at Carson last evening. The sermon was by Rev. Raser of Susanville, followed by a reception to the Bishop. The address of welcome delivered by Superintendent Van Deventer was responded to by the Bishop.

Peter Hirschfield, for many years an attaché of the Chollar Mining Company at Virginia, was a passenger for San Francisco last evening, where he will remain.
